"If you don't write your story yourself, someone else will do it for you. So you've got to get out there and write it."
Benjamin Zephaniah

CWU Left Click
The communications union

Express Yourself
English & Creative Writing Course

Menu Glossary Resources | Express Yourself

Terms

Adjective
Adverb
Alliteration
Anaphora
Assonance
Autobiography
Blog
Comic Strip
Comprehension Conjunction

Definition
The repetition of the first consonant sound in a word.

Creative Writing
Sometimes it is useful to use comparisons to improve the mental picture you are giving your reader. A simile is a direct comparison, saying that something is like another thing. A metaphor blends the comparison, merging the characteristics of the two. Click on the buttons to see the difference.

Simile

Metaphor

Then click on the 'next' button to move on.

‹ PREV   NEXT ›

SAMSUNG

Improve your writing skills

Brush up on your English

Discover creative tips and tricks

See and hear examples from writers and poets across the ages

Gain the confidence to start writing for yourself

www.cwu.org/leftclick